

Welcome

PolyJen® predicts chain-growth polymerization (specifically oxyalkylation) reactions while minimizing expensive laboratory experimentation. Rather than constructing polymers in a laboratory and consuming chemicals and time, one can just use this application to determine the results of mixing monomers with a specific initiator.

If you have any comments or ideas concerning this software application, contact us at Beowurks.